Accessibility Conformance Report

Revised Section 508 Edition (Based on VPAT® Version 2.5Rev)

Name of Product/Version: Streeme v2

Report Date: August 2025

Product Description: Streeme is a modern streaming platform that delivers live TV and On-Demand content to any screen with a seamless, high-quality experience.

Contact Information: go@streeme.tv

Notes:

This evaluation encompasses the complete Streeme platform ecosystem including native mobile applications, web interface, and TV applications. Testing emphasized compatibility with standard assistive technologies and adherence to platform accessibility guidelines. Known areas for enhancement include dynamic content announcements and accessibility preference persistence.

Evaluation Methods Used:

The accessibility evaluation of Streeme v2 was conducted using the following methods:

Automated Accessibility Testing: WAVE (Web Accessibility Evaluation Tool) for web interface assessment Google DevTools Lighthouse accessibility audits for performance and accessibility metrics IBM Equal Access Accessibility Checker for comprehensive automated compliance testing Automated scanning across all web-based interfaces and documentation

Manual Keyboard Navigation Testing: Comprehensive manual testing using keyboard-only navigation to verify all interactive elements are accessible, focus management is proper, and complete functionality is available without mouse interaction across all platforms.

Manual Testing with Assistive Technology: Screen reader testing using VoiceOver on iOS and web interfaces, with comparative analysis against industry standards (HBO Max) for benchmarking accessibility performance.

Platform Standards Review: Evaluation of implementation approaches, focusing on use of native platform accessibility frameworks (iOS Accessibility APIs, Android TalkBack APIs, web ARIA standards) versus custom implementations.

Interface Analysis: Systematic review of user interface components across multiple platforms (iOS, Android, web, TV applications) including navigation structures, form controls, media players (AVPlayer, ExoPlayer, Video.js), and content organization patterns.

Code Structure Examination: Analysis of HTML markup, CSS implementation, and semantic structure for web components, particularly focusing on proper heading hierarchy, form labels, ARIA implementation, and accessible markup patterns.

Documentation Review: Assessment of accessibility feature documentation, support materials, and user guidance across support website and help resources.

Support Infrastructure Evaluation: Review of customer support accessibility training, escalation procedures, and accommodation capabilities for users with disabilities.

Functional Testing: Verification of core user workflows including content discovery, video playback, search functionality, and account management through assistive technology, keyboard navigation, and automated testing validation.

Applicable Standards/Guidelines

This report covers the degree of conformance for the following accessibility standards/guidelines

Standard/Guideline	Included In Report
Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.0	Level A (Yes) Level AA (Yes) Level AAA (Yes / No)
Revised Section 508 standards published January 18, 2017 and corrected January 22, 2018	(Yes)

Terms

The terms used in the Conformance Level information are defined as follows:

- Supports: The functionality of the product has at least one method that meets the criterion without known defects or meets with equivalent facilitation.
- Partially Supports: Some functionality of the product does not meet the criterion.
- Does Not Support: The majority of product functionality does not meet the criterion.
- Not Applicable: The criterion is not relevant to the product.
- Not Evaluated: The product has not been evaluated against the criterion. This can only be used in WCAG Level AAA criteria.

WCAG 2.0 Report

Tables 1 and 2 also document conformance with Revised Section 508:

- Chapter 5 – 501.1 Scope, 504.2 Content Creation or Editing

- Chapter 6 – 602.3 Electronic Support Documentation

Note: When reporting on conformance with the WCAG 2.0 Success Criteria, they are scoped for full pages, complete processes, and accessibility-supported ways of using technology as documented in the WCAG 2.0 Conformance Requirements.

In several forms, invalid input triggers a descriptive message that explains how to correct the error; in others, the same error is indicated only by a generic notice or visual styling (e.g., a red border) with no corrective guidance. Because this behaviour varies across the product, the criterion is only partially met.
3.3.4 Error Prevention (Legal, Financial, Data) (Level AA) Also applies to: Revised Section 508 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>501 (Web)(Software)</li> <li>504.2 (Authoring Tool)</li> <li>602.3 (Support Docs)</li> </ul>	Web: Partially Supports Electronic Docs: Not Applicable Software: Partially Supports Authoring Tool: Not Applicable	The product has no legal or financial transactions. The only action covered by this criterion is “Clear Search History,” which deletes non-critical user data (view history) immediately without a confirmation prompt or undo. Because a safeguard is missing, the criterion is partially met; however, the impact is limited to low-value, non-personal data. A confirmation dialog is under consideration for a future release.

Revised Section 508 Report

Notes:

Chapter 3: Functional Performance Criteria \(FPC\)

Notes:

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
302.1 Without Vision	Partially Supports	Streeme's features mostly allow people without vision to use screen readers to interact with user interface elements
302.2 With Limited Vision	Partially Supports	Streeme's features mostly allow people without vision to use screen readers to interact with user interface elements
302.3 Without Perception of Color	Partially Supports	Streeme's features mostly allow people without vision to use screen readers to interact with user interface elements
302.4 Without Hearing	Supports	The product is usable by people without hearing.
302.5 With Limited Hearing	Supports	The product is usable by people with limited hearing.
302.6 Without Speech	Supports	The product is usable by people without speech.

302.7 With Limited Manipulation	Partially Supports	Across the web, iOS, Android, Android TV, and Roku apps, all tasks can be completed with simple, sequential button or key presses; no feature requires drag-and-drop, multi-touch gestures, long presses, or simultaneous controls. Most interactive targets meet the size recommendations for their platform, but a few buttons are smaller than those guidelines. These undersized controls could be difficult for users with limited dexterity, so the criterion is not fully met. A review is underway to enlarge or provide alternate access to these controls.
302.8 With Limited Reach and Strength	Supports
302.9 With Limited Language, Cognitive, and Learning Abilities	Partially Supports	The interface generally uses straightforward labels and keeps navigation consistent across screens. However, error messages are presented in different ways on different views—some fields show a clear inline explanation, while others provide only a brief notice or rely on colour cues. This inconsistency can make it harder for users with cognitive or learning disabilities to understand what went wrong and how to fix it, so the criterion is only partially met.

Chapter 5: Software

Notes:

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
501.1 Scope – Incorporation of WCAG 2.0 AA	See WCAG 2.x section	See information in WCAG 2.x section
502 Interoperability with Assistive Technology	Heading cell – no response required	Heading cell – no response required
502.2.1 User Control of Accessibility Features	Supports	Users can control caption display through on/off toggles in the video player. Streeme primarily relies on operating system accessibility features and does not interfere with user control of platform accessibility settings
502.2.2 No Disruption of Accessibility Features	Partially Supports	Users can control caption display through on/off toggles in the video player. However, caption preferences are not retained between content items, requiring users to manually enable captions for each video. Streeme primarily relies on operating system accessibility features and does not interfere with user control of platform accessibility settings.
502.3 Accessibility Services	Heading cell – no response required	Heading cell – no response required

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
502.3.1 Object Information	Supports	All interactive elements provide accessible names, roles, and states to assistive technology. Content information including titles and descriptions are properly announced to screen readers.
502.3.2 Modification of Object Information	Supports	Streeme uses standard platform accessibility frameworks (iOS Accessibility, Android TalkBack APIs, ARIA on web) without restrictions. The application does not block assistive technology from accessing or modifying object information when needed for enhanced user experience.
502.3.3 Row, Column, and Headers	Partially Supports	Content catalog interfaces appropriately use card-based layouts with channel information included in tile descriptions. However, the TV program guide interface does not implement semantic table structure required for row, column, and header relationships. While channel information is announced, the CSS grid layout does not provide programmatic access to table headers or cell relationships that assistive technology requires for proper navigation.
502.3.4 Values	Supports	Streeme uses standard platform controls (iOS, Android, web) that automatically provide current values, ranges, and granularity information to assistive technology. No custom value-based controls are implemented that could interfere with standard accessibility announcements.

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
502.3.5 Modification of Values	Supports	Streeme uses standard platform controls (iOS AVPlayer, Android ExoPlayer, web Video.js) that allow assistive technology to modify all user-controllable values including volume, playback position, and player states. Video controls are fully accessible via keyboard and screen reader, with proper focus management and navigation patterns.
502.3.6 Label Relationships	Supports	All form controls have proper label relationships that are exposed to assistive technology. Search fields, login forms, and other interactive elements announce their associated labels when accessed by screen readers.
502.3.7 Hierarchical Relationships	Supports	Content organization uses proper hierarchical structure with sections as parent containers and individual content items as children. List semantics appropriately convey parent-child relationships to assistive technology. Navigation follows clear hierarchical patterns from content categories to individual item details."
502.3.8 Text	Partially Supports	Most text content is accessible to assistive technology, including movie titles, descriptions, channel information, and properly structured headings. Images include appropriate alternative text and text formatting is communicated to screen readers. However, some visible text elements are not programmatically accessible to assistive technology.

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
502.3.9 Modification of Text	Supports	Streeme uses standard platform text input controls that allow assistive technology to modify text content in search fields. The application does not implement restrictions that would prevent assistive technology from providing text enhancements or modifications as needed by users.
502.3.10 List of Actions	Supports	All interactive elements use standard platform controls that automatically expose available actions to assistive technology. Screen readers can discover and execute all user actions including navigation, media controls, and form interactions through standard platform accessibility APIs.
502.3.11 Actions on Objects	Supports	Assistive technology can successfully execute all available actions on interactive elements. Users can play videos, navigate content, perform searches, and access all platform features through screen reader commands and other assistive technology controls.
502.3.12 Focus Cursor	Supports	Assistive technology can accurately track user navigation and focus position throughout the interface. Focus indicators are properly managed and communicated to screen readers as users move between interactive elements.
502.3.13 Modification of Focus Cursor	Supports	Assistive technology can programmatically move focus between

		interface elements. Screen readers and other AT can reliably navigate and control focus position within the application.
502.3.14 Event Notification	Does Not Support	The platform does not provide event notifications to assistive technology for dynamic content changes, video state transitions, or content loading updates. Screen readers do not receive announcements when videos play/pause, new content loads, or interface elements update dynamically
502.4 Platform Accessibility Features	Supports	Streeme respects platform accessibility features including high contrast mode, font scaling, dark mode preferences, and keyboard navigation. The application works properly with system-wide accessibility settings and does not interfere with platform accessibility services.
503 Applications	Heading cell – no response required	Heading cell – no response required
503.2 User Preferences	Does Not Support	Streeme does not retain user accessibility preferences such as caption settings between content sessions. Users must manually re-enable accessibility features for each piece of content. The platform respects operating system accessibility settings but does not provide persistent in-application accessibility preferences.
503.3 Alternative User Interfaces	Not Applicable	Streeme provides a single user interface that is designed to work with standard platform accessibility services (VoiceOver,

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
		TalkBack, high contrast mode, etc.). No separate alternative user interfaces are provided as the primary interface is designed to meet accessibility requirements through platform accessibility features.
503.4 User Controls for Captions and Audio Description	Heading cell – no response required	Heading cell – no response required
503.4.1 Caption Controls	Partially Supports	Video player provides caption toggle controls that allow users to enable/disable captions during video playback. However, caption preferences are not retained between content sessions, requiring users to manually re-enable captions for each video.
503.4.2 Audio Description Controls	Not Applicable	Streeme does not provide audio description functionality. This criterion applies only to software that offers audio description features.
504 Authoring Tools	Heading cell – no response required	Heading cell – no response required
504.2 Content Creation or Editing (if not authoring tool, enter “not applicable”)	See WCAG 2.x section	See information in WCAG 2.x section
504.2.1 Preservation of Information Provided for Accessibility in Format Conversion	Not Applicable	Streeme is a content consumption platform that does not provide authoring tools or content creation features. This criterion applies only to software that enables users to create or edit content.
504.2.2 PDF Export	Not Applicable	Streeme is a content consumption platform that does not provide authoring tools or content creation features. This criterion applies only to software that enables users to create or edit content.

Criteria	Conformance Level	Remarks and Explanations
504.3 Prompts	Not Applicable	Streeme is a content consumption platform that does not provide authoring tools or content creation features. This criterion applies only to software that enables users to create or edit content.
504.4 Templates	Not Applicable	Streeme is a content consumption platform that does not provide authoring tools or content creation features. This criterion applies only to software that enables users to create or edit content.
